

Train

To get around by train smoothly, confirm in advance how to buy a ticket to your destination!

Check the fare to your destination

After you get to the station, check the route map, which is usually found above the ticket machines. Look for the name of the station you want to go to, and the price to go there from your current location will be indicated.

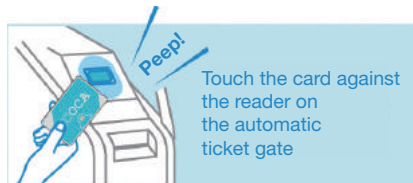

Put money in the ticket machine

Put enough bills and coins in the machine slots to cover the fare. Be careful, because some machines don't accept 10,000 and 5,000 yen bills.

Press the button labeled with the required amount

When you insert the money, fares will be displayed on the screen. So press the button for the correct fare for your destination. When you want to buy multiple tickets, press the right button for the number of people.

Put your ticket in the automatic ticket gate

Put your ticket into the slot on a ticket gate that has an arrow or circle symbol, then take your ticket again as you pass through the gate. You cannot go through a ticket gate for IC cards only.
